

Writing Instruction by Assessment Domains & 2008 ELA Standards

Types of Writing

Name:

Third Grade

- Friendly letter (greeting, body, closing, signature)
- Invitation (time, date, place of the event)
- Narrative (characters, setting, follow logical sequence)
- Narrative Lesson District Webpage Support Document 3-5.2
- Descriptive writing about people, place, event
- Descriptive Lesson District Webpage Support Document 3-5.3
- Write to entertain (jokes, riddles)
- Entertainment Lesson District Webpage Support Document 3-5.4
- Write to inform Lesson District Webpage Support Document 3-5.1

Fourth Grade

- Continue with previous indicators
- Write to inform (postcards, flyers, letters, e-mails) written for appropriate audience
- Write to inform Lesson District Webpage Support Document 4-5.1
- Narrative (details, sequence of events to develop plot)
- Narrative Lesson District Webpage Support Document 4-5.2
- Descriptive writing appealing to readers senses
- Descriptive Lesson District Webpage Support Document 4-5.3
- Write to entertain (skits, plays)
- Entertainment Lesson District Webpage Support Document 4-5.4

Fifth Grade

- Continue with previous indicators
- Write to inform (book reviews, newsletter articles) written for appropriate audience
- Write to inform Lesson District Webpage Support Document 5-5.1
- Narrative (fully developed plot and consistent point of view)
- Narrative Lesson District Webpage Support Document 5-5.2
- Descriptive writing with precise language and vivid details
- Descriptive Lesson District Webpage Support Document 5-5.3
- Write to entertain for specific audience (picture books, comic books, graphic novels)
- Entertainment Lesson District Webpage Support Document 4-5.4

Writing Instruction by Assessment Domains & 2008 ELA Standards